

THE CYNTHIANA NEWS.

VOL. XVIII.

CYNTHIANA NEWS.

A. J. MOREY,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

TERMS.

The Cynthiana News is published weekly at $2 per annum bimonthly.

Rates of Advertising
Per Square of 10 Lines.

One Insertion	$1.00
Three months	4.00
Six months	7.00
Twelve months	10.00
Obituary Notices	0.25

Job Work executed with neatness and dispatch, on reasonable terms.

The News has been incorporated by the Legislature of Kentucky and can publish Legal Advertisements.

Kentucky Central Rail Road.

UP TRAINS.

Leave Covington at 6:00, a.m., and 2:00 p.m.

Arrive at Cynthiana at 9:15, a.m., and 5:15 p.m.

Arrive at Lexington at 11:00, a.m., and 7:00, p.m.

Arrive at Nicholasville at 11:15, a.m., and 2:15, p.m.

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave Nicholasville at 4:30, a.m., and 12:15, p.m.

Leave Lexington at 5:20, a.m., and 1:00, p.m.

Arrive at Cynthiana at 7:28, a.m., and 3:40, p.m.

Arrive at Covington at 10:50, a.m., and 6:00, p.m.

Both trains run through between Covington and Nicholasville.

MAGNOLIA SALOON,
JNO. LALLY, Proprietor,
PIKE STREET,

CYNTHIANA, KY.

AT this establishment may be obtained
A Tasty Beverage, compounded especially for
PLUM MATERIALS

Bad for long or short time.

BURTON, IRAN AND WINES &c.

Also cigars and tobacco, the choicest

CIGARS, Liqueurs, &c.

Drinks, Liquors, &c.

For information apply at Wall's Saloon

H. C. NEILLY,
Confectionery & Grocery,

Opposite Court House,

Main Street, Cynthiana, Ky.

Soda-Water and Confectionary
CIGARS AND TOBACCO

His stores to the public generally will sell to the last article.

Best quality of Lager Beer for sale by the glass.

and 35¢ a glass.

Sheet-Iron and Copper work.

Opposite Court House,

Main Street, Cynthiana, Ky.

Confectionary & Variety Store.

J. E. DICKEN,

Pike Street, Cynthiana.

His store at his new store, a few doors east of Main street, a fresh assortment of confectionaries, such as Plain and fancy candies, Caramel fruits and pickles, candy, chocolates, fancy articles, &c.

Faithfully yours, Isaac Dicken, 2nd and bever.

July 16, 1868.

Confectionary & Variety Store.

F. M. GRAY,

Pike Street, Cynthiana.

Keeps constantly on hand a full and fresh assortment of confectionaries, including

PLAIN AND FANCY CANDIES.

CANNED FRUITS, OYSTERS,
And Nuts of all kinds, Fancy notables, Wedding parties supplied with candies, &c., with every description of fancy articles, &c.

Will prepare to furnish everything in his line, except what can be purchased at any establishment of the kind.

Call and examine his stock.

July 16, 1868.

RIEKEL & RAUH.

DEALERS IN

WATCHES & JEWELRY,

Silver and Silver plated Ware.

PIKE STREET, Cynthiana, Ky.

We would respectfully inform the citizens of Cynthiana, that we have a full and complete assortment of MATES & CO.'S Silver-plated
Silver-plated Ware, Jewelry,
Fancy Goods, Spectacles, Clocks, &c.

Repairing of watches and jewelry promptly attended to.

May 25, 1868.

FOR SALE,

PIKE STREET,

We wish to sell our farm situated between 15 and 20 miles of Stanton, K.

C. R. G. on South Licking, It contains about

475 Acres,

Forty-three acres sowed in wheat, 20 acres in rye, 20 in corn, 10 in oats, 15 in beans, 20 in turnips next year. The balance in blue grass. A fine young orchard of 300 bearing apple trees. Plenty of good stock, water in all the pastures, and the fields can be easily watered from the river. Brick house with 8 rooms, with bell above and above, frame ware house, and plenty of stable room, together with other necessary buildings.

Persons wishing to purchase can address the undersigned at Bay's Station or upon application on the premises.

T. L. and R. F. GARRARD.

Oct 1-2m

WM. TURNEY.

PIKE STREET, Cynthiana, Ky.

Opposite Commercial Bank.

MANUFACTORY.

Opposite Commercial Bank.</p

Democratic, Right or wrong.

The Chicago Post says.—The election of General Grant is likely to work considerable change in Kentucky journalism. Isham Hendersot, a wealthy gentleman, who was for many years one of the proprietors of the Louisville Journal, has bought the Louisville Democratic, and it is said, convert it into a Republican paper. There are rumors, also, that to flank this movement, the Courier Journal will support the administration of Grant. Walter N. Haldeman, who is now the principal owner of the latter paper, was once a clerk in the old Journal office, when Geo. D. Prentiss was a power in the nation. Now the Journal is no more, and Prentiss himself is an employee of Mr. Haldeman. Such are the changes of time. It is not likely that the Louisville journalism will ever reflect the individuality of former days. Prentiss, Harney and Penn, were once a powerful trio in Kentucky. Traditions of their editorial combats will doubtless linger for a time in the semi-barbarous legends of the Southern press, but will at last fade from the memories of men. Mr. Prentiss's name will, however, go down to the future as that of a true but not voluminous poet. As he now in the evening of his life, looks back over the blackened waste of thirty years of devotion to false social and governmental theories and practices, it may well give him pleasure to behold the pure poetic flame he has kindled in his youth still brightly burning."

Letter from Macon, Missouri.

Macon, Mo., Nov. 24, 1868.

Editor New:—About the last of next April, it will have been twenty years since I emigrated to Missouri from Cynthiana, where I was born and lived until my twentieth year, nearly a quarter of a century. And yet my affection for the old town is undiminished, and as warm as ever. I have traveled a good deal, seen many places, resided in two States, and in several towns of one, yet never have I seen the spot, to which I became as much attached as I am to that little valley on the Licking River, sacred to me by a thousand cherished recollections.

I never can, nor would I, if I could, forget the associates of my boyhood, or the kindnesses received from many of the old citizens, now no more, and many yet in life, and I hope with prospects of many years to come. Some of them with whom I had boyish rivalries are dead, among whom Joe Trimble, J. McThompson and J. C. Cury; others, like myself, have left the place of their nativity, or early adoption, to seek fame and fortune in other States; of these are James J. Linley, T. C. Ware, Jno. L. Morrison, R. H. and A. Musser, W. T. Withers and Montgomery Boyd, while a few more, more lucky, remained, and found what we sought in the far West, fortune and distinction, neither, nor both of which will compensate for the loss of home feeling, and the freedom and confidence with which one associates with those among whom he was reared. Of those who were wise enough to make their battle of life where they were born, are A. H. Ward, W. W. Trimble and J. S. Boyd.

If I had my life to pass over again, and could regulate it by the experience I have acquired, I would content myself on the bank of the Licking River, within two hundred yards of the public spring, and an equal distance from the old stone bridge on the Claysville road—the latter, the workmanship of James Chambers, I believe, a pious and highly respected citizen, now, if alive, a resident of Coles county, Illinois.

Cynthiana is now old enough to have her traditions, and she needs an "old mortality," periodically to review the inscription upon the grave stones of her honored dead, and relate to the rising generation, the virtue and history of some of the most noted people who have lived there, but are now sleeping in the old grave yard north of town.

I am afraid that over the graves of the Moore boys, there has not yet been placed a slab or anything to indicate that in that narrow house are the remains of a revolutionary patriot. He died before I was born, but so often have I heard the circumstances of his death and burial related, how with the honors of war he was borne to his last resting place, and all the pomp and ceremony of the occasion, that until corrected by those who knew better, I thought that I had witnessed the imposing spectacle.

Many noble spirits have passed from Cynthiana to the other world. Permit me to name a few who should not be forgotten:

Col. Miller, a kind hearted, noble old man, whose descendants are still among you, respected for the integrity which they inherited from their ancestor, Andrew Moore, for years clerk of the Circuit Court, of Harrison; Ashberry and M. Broadwell; Thos. Rankin; F. B. and Uriah Woolard; Job, A. January; Wm. K. Wall, his brother-in-law, an able lawyer and an eloquent advocate, but higher praise than this he deserves, he was an honest man and a kind, warm-hearted friend and neighbor. I was, for sometime, in his office as a law student, and have seen him engaged in most intricate and exciting cases, and yet in a more trying situation, as a candidate for political preferment, when party contests were even more embittered than now, yet I never saw him lose his patience, or dignity, or gentlemanly bearing.

Joe Trimble, the most indefatigable lawyer I have ever known, a man of marvelous acquirements in his profession, and with fewer eccentricities, and a little more attention to the graces, would have been one of the first men in the State. I could say more in his praise, but he was, by marriage, my uncle, and it would perhaps be thought indecent.

Dr. Joel Frazer was another of Cynthiana's great men. An eminent physician and a man of elegant manners, and gentle, warm heart.

There are a few of the most prominent of seers of worthy men, whose memories should be cherished by the people of Cynthiana. Some of the old men of that class, are still alive, links between the present and the past generation, who appear to have been left as sentinel, to observe when the places of the dead should be properly filled, before they should go to join their associates in the city of the silent dead. Cherish them while they remain with you; nurse and tend them in their decrepitude and infirmity. They are worthy of your care. The memories of those of you who are living in the old town do not run back like ours.

The events that are transpiring around you occupy your minds, so that you have but little time for retrospection, but those of us who have been absent for many years, only remember the town as it was when we left it, and when anything causes us to recur to those times, the events that occupy our minds are those that then transpired, or are traditional. I have a very distinct recollection of the consternation that prevailed in Cynthiana in 1833, when the cholera almost decimated the population. Men in good health at sunrise, were in their grave clothes at noon. I saw old Mr. Setton on the street one morning, and before sunset he was a corpse. It made an impression upon my mind which will never be effaced. The great fire, which about that time, destroyed a large portion of the town, including Capt. Thompson's brick hotel, is another event that is indelibly fixed in my memory—added with the unfortunate, accidental killing of Scott, and the mysterious fate of Henry Synder—found dead in a well near the McMiller property—whether it was an accident, a suicide, or murder, has never, I believe, been determined.

Another reminiscence, of a more agreeable character, is the old Cynthiana Thespian Society, organized some twenty-eight or thirty years ago, by Jno. M. Timberlake, Henry and John Mathews, W. A. Moore, W. Miller, Wm. Cromwell, H. Corvine, A. P. Derby, J. P. Henry, S. T. Wade and others, whose names I have forgotten. Timberlake in tragedy, and Corvine and Derby in comedy, were actors, who would have received applause in any theatre in the United States. Poor Timberlake; his life was a tragedy. I have seen tragedians superior to Timberlake, yet I have seen some of national renown, not a whit better, but I have never seen any better comedians than Corvine and Derby. Those who witnessed, will never forget the performance of "Family Jars" by the Cynthiana Amateurs. They had monthly performances, generally on the night of county court day, and among those who, from the country, frequently remained in town to witness the performance, was Park Whittaker, (son of old Josiah) who contributed, by his remarks upon the play as it progressed, as much to the amusement of the audience, as Corvine or Derby in their happiest efforts.

At that time Cynthiana had no railroad, or turnpikes. It was an isolated village, so much so that those who lived in more pretentious towns, such as Lexington, Georgetown, and Paris, located it between Lexington and Limestone's mill on the Licking river, yet it contained as intelligent, genial and hospitable a population as could be found in Kentucky, e. in the world.

Two years ago I was at Cynthiana. Many changes had taken place, but there was enough of this old town left to revive many pleasant memories. I have frequently thought that it would be a most interesting occasion, at some designated time, all of the scattered Cynthianians, and they are everywhere, could be gathered together once more in the old town, in a social reunion. I make the motion, shall I have a second.

NATIVE.

About ten days since we visited Midway, in Woodford county, and found it full of thrift and enterprise. There were appearances of progress about the place which is not found in every town. In the center of the town we found a modest monument erected to the memory of Col. Wm. R. McKee, commander of the 2nd Regiment of Kentucky Volunteers, at the battle of Buena Vista, and where he fell mortally wounded, leading his regiment to victory.

The Midway Orphan School is situated near this place, and is a very respectable building. It is under the control of Elder Broadhurst, to the grace, would have been one of the first men in the State. I could say more in his praise, but he was, by marriage, my uncle, and it would perhaps be thought indecent.

May Berdell, the most indefatigable lawyer I have ever known, a man of marvelous acquirements in his profession, and with fewer eccentricities, and a little more attention to the graces, would have been the first for the position he fills. There are seventy three good looking young ladies being educated here, all of whom are progressing rapidly in their studies. We called at the school, and accepted an invitation to supper, and when we stepped into the dining room, we were introduced to 73 young ladies, all at the same time, who addressed us in perfect concert, "How do you do, Major Morey?" This to a young man of our universally recognized modesty and diffidence, was very trying. Our inimitable gallantry speedily came to our relief, and we were able to pass through the ordeal with becoming credit.

This is a noble charity, an asylum for the most unfortunate class, the orphan girls of society—they who have been bereft of the guiding and protecting care of father and mother, may here find an asylum from the storms and temptations of this life. Though death has taken from them forever, home and its sacred and enabling influences, and nothing but the power that took can restore, yet this beautiful fruit of Christianity does at least "steep the wind to the shorn lamb." If it be true that the tree shall be known by its fruits, how strong is the argument that the religion in accordance with whose spirit and teachings this and other like charities in the land have sprung up, is divine. The true disciples are found in all the walks of life, as well in the peasant's cottage as in the halls of the mighty, comforting the disconsolate, clothing the naked, and feeding the hungry—by the bed of pain and sickness, in patient watching they are found pointing the way to life beyond the grave, and catching the last penitential prayer of the soul as it is wafted away forever. We are told they are the salt of the earth—we believe it—and these transcendent glories among them, as a people, are its savor, a savor of life unto life unto each one of these patient laborious, self-sacrificing disciples.

The passage through life from the cradle to the grave, is at best, a sad one, for we are stung by nettles, and pricked by thorns at every step, and there is no man but that has seen the hour when encompassed by sorrow—faint and worn, like a hunted deer, he has longed for the oblivion of the grave, but the grave, without hope for the future, is fearful indeed. Then let not the scoffer, the infidel, attempt to take from sorrowing man the pole-star of religion, but let him from all things white, ardent and zealous, learn and confess—that God liveth.

The fruits of this institution are apparent even in our midst as all its graduates are model teachers and christian women, and not one who has ever left the walls of this school but has shown by her walk in life the high moral training and excellent discipline to which she has been subjected. With facts like these before the community, every good man can but call it a success, and every truly pious man and woman, without regard to sect, will remember it in their prayers, and their contributions.

A SUPPER.—The friends of the Confederate Monumental Assn., have in contemplation a Supper to be given at an early day, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the payment for the fine monument which the society will erect in Battle Grove Cemetery next Spring—in honor of the Martyrs of the "Lost Cause," who fell in the battles of Cynthiana.

A meeting of the Society will take place to-night at the store of J. H. Shawhan, for the purpose of devising ways and means to get more means necessary to close the business, as we owe a small balance on the monument. If you love your countrymen, who have gone to their long homes, you will take hold of this work lively.

OBITUARY.

Sad indeed, is it to record the death of any one of our fellow-burgesses and soldier sons, when called upon to record the death of an old acquaintance, who for long years had been a tried and cherished friend.

But to record the death of a father, mother, sister, brother, son or daughter, stirs the soul in very center, as in the present case, we are called upon to record the death of MISS VIRGINIA ANN DAY: only daughter of Alfred and Mary Francis Day. She was born the 1st day of August, 1831, and died the 21st day of July, 1868, at the home of Rev. A. G. Hardy, 241 Main St., at Harrison, on the 21st of September, 1868, when she departed this life in a quiet manner, and died in the sleep of death." But her death cast her far to sing for her sweet song, for "she was so happy" for so many years, so am I taking an all too late leave of all the many and friends, as the summer's evening passes, so sweetly did her peaceful spirit pass to the land of the blessed.

May heralded words of exhortation and protest fill the hearts of those who hear the majestic words of heaven, and lead them all to prepare for a glorious meeting and reunion in that strait and narrow place.

Our friends are leaving one by one, and we shall be soon to say, when Autumn's work is done, have fallen and to silence lie.

The ties which bind our spirits here, will give such pleasure to the soul, in all life's busy scenes and years.

No one can cheer those hearts so cold,

As those thoughts do weigh down our spirits, And cast their shadows o'er our path, Yet still we go on though they grow.

With a tried and weeping faith,

Wee-ri-eh still the fondest love For those dear ones we once possessed, For surely now they rest above With saints and angels everlast.

But shall we meet them again, When life's great conflict here is past, And shall we then such joy obtain, As when at home we saw them last.

Then dearest daughter, sweetly sleep, Impaired by thy brother's side,

Till angel-bands whom Jesus keeps, To bring his saints there to abide,

Then oh, my child, Virginia have,

And little dolley will be heirs,

To meet us at the gate above,

And bid us welcome, welcome there,

J. C. H.

DIED.

On Sunday morning, Nov. 29, 1868, J. B. Nichols, aged about 36 years.

Suddenly on Thursday last, at the residence of his husband, in Bourbon county, Mrs. Mary Keller, aged about 64 years.

You may be too late.

Be warned in time. Diseases like indigestion and dyspepsia are not to be trifled with. There is such a thing as being too late in the treatment. Inflammation, or Seirius-Carrion, or some other dangerous disease may ensue, when all restoratives, no matter how potent, would be ineffectual. Do not delay then. When the symptoms of dyspepsia are first experienced resort at once to the great restorative medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and you will be safe.

But few disorders involve greater suffering, and if not in itself immediately dangerous, it is the source of many deadly maladies. Even if it did not tend to greater evil, the mental and physical misery it produces is alone a sufficient reason why no pains should be spared to prevent or cure it. To society on the face of the globe is it so completely domesticated, as in our own, where it is found in nearly every household. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are universally conceded to be the sovereign remedy for this annoying disease, as they act directly upon the digestive organs, correct and tone the stomach, and give renewed vitality to the system. Acting delightfully upon the nerves and soothing the brain, renders them useless as a mental medicine, as well as a general stomachic. If taken as a preventive, they will be found particularly well suited to the diseases arising from the indolent season of autumn, and their use will prevent the creeping, unpleasant sensations often complained of when the chills are stealing slowly upon the patient.

Another reminiscence, of a more agreeable character, is the old Cynthiana Thespian Society, organized some twenty-eight or thirty years ago, by Jno. M. Timberlake, Henry and John Mathews, W. A. Moore, W. Miller, Wm. Cromwell, H. Corvine, A. P. Derby, J. P. Henry, S. T. Wade and others, whose names I have forgotten. Timberlake in tragedy, and Corvine and Derby in comedy, were actors, who would have received applause in any theatre in the United States. Poor Timberlake; his life was a tragedy. I have seen tragedians superior to Timberlake, yet I have seen some of national renown, not a whit better, but I have never seen any better comedians than Corvine and Derby. Those who witnessed, will never forget the performance of "Family Jars" by the Cynthiana Amateurs. They had monthly performances, generally on the night of county court day, and among those who, from the country, frequently remained in town to witness the performance, was Park Whittaker, (son of old Josiah) who contributed, by his remarks upon the play as it progressed, as much to the amusement of the audience, as Corvine or Derby in their happiest efforts.

At that time Cynthiana had no railroad, or turnpikes. It was an isolated village, so much so that those who lived in more pretentious towns, such as Lexington, Georgetown, and Paris, located it between Lexington and Limestone's mill on the Licking river, yet it contained as intelligent, genial and hospitable a population as could be found in Kentucky, e. in the world.

The fruits of this institution are apparent even in our midst as all its graduates are model teachers and christian women, and not one who has ever left the walls of this school but has shown by her walk in life the high moral training and excellent discipline to which she has been subjected. With facts like these before the community, every good man can but call it a success, and every truly pious man and woman, without regard to sect, will remember it in their prayers, and their contributions.

FOR SALE.

HAVING concluded to move to Missouri, I wish to sell privately the farm on which I now reside. This farm is situated two miles north of Newtown on the O&R road, and contains 128 1/2 Acres, in a high state of cultivation. Twenty Acres of fresh hemp land; Twenty-five acres of grass; Eighteen acres sown in rye; Fifteen acres sown in wheat; the balance good corn land.

The dwelling contains five rooms and a hall. There are other necessary out-buildings on the place. I desire inquiries in reference to the property, as persons wishing to purchase such a place will please call upon me on the farm, or write to me at Newburg, or address Col. L. B. Olliff, at Georgetown. Aug-29-1868.

LOUIS D. PAYNE.

Aug-23-1868.

W. S. HAVILAND,
Cynthiana, Ky.

C. A. WEBSTER.
H. M. HODGES.

Webster and Hodges,
PIKE STREET, Cynthiana, Ky.

Commission
MERCHANTS,

AND DEALERS IN

Hardware, Groceries, Country Produce, Glass and QUEENSWARE.

Painters and Glaziers Findings

Glass and Putty.

Shoemakers' Findings,
City Tanned and Spanish Sole

French and City Calf, Kipp, and Upper Leather, Topping
and Lining Skins.

BLACKSMITHS APRONS.

WE have just received a large and well selected stock of goods, and are prepared to sell at the lowest and general cash price.

Every description of family groceries.

All kinds of family groceries.

Country produce.

LOCAL MATTER.

Go to Juett's for cheap groceries, on Pike street.

The Criminal Court of Kenton county, will commence in January. Judge J. S. Boyd will be in attendance ready for business.

James Werley, a plasterer, fell from the scaffold in the Christian church, last week, and broke his arm.

Jacob Walton, a man of color, accidentally shot himself in the thigh, last week, from which he came near losing his life.

Jno. W. Fennell, Register in Bankruptcy, will be in Cynthiana and hold a court, December 22, 1868. This is the last round, without more money in the bankruptcy business.

Master C. Magee, son of H. Clay Magee, who resides near this city, was badly hurt last week. A cart loaded with corn ran over him. We understand he is recovering.

Gen. Boswell informs us that some person or persons have stolen fifteen head of his fat hogs. We had supposed that the days of hog thieves had passed.

Rev. M. Crow has been holding a revival at Oddville, in this county, in which ten new members were added to the Methodist church.

The Rev. Mr. Barbee and the Rev. Mr. Varden, have just concluded a very interesting meeting on Richland, in this county, in which eleven members were added to the church at that place.

The official vote of the Catholics of Valparaiso, for a patron saint, shortly after the earthquake, has been received. It stood: "The Adorable Savior of the world," 19,949 votes; "the Most Holy Virgin," 4,132; scattering, 384. The Savior was declared elected, and a solemn Te Deum sung.

Our friend, Dr. Blaydes, of Connerville, in this county, we regret to learn, has removed to Mt. Sterling, Ky., where he proposes to practice his profession. Dr. B. is a kind hearted gentleman, who proposes to do right under all circumstances—a good physician and a good citizen. We hope he may find many friends in his new home.

Go to J. D. Motche's No. 588 Madison street, Covington, you will find him clever and accommodating, ready to wait upon you to anything in his line, of which he has a splendid and well selected stock, calculated to please the most fastidious, consisting of watches, clocks and jewelry, silver and plated ware, all in the latest and most approved styles. Watches, clocks and jewelry repaired and warranted. He is agent for the Elgin Watch.

If you want No. 1 flour, you can get it at Juett's, warranted or no sale.

Powell & Kohler's Practical System for cutting all kinds of garments, can be had by calling on Mrs. Trowbridge at Mr. Bent's on Pike street, who has the sole right for Harrison. It is one of the most perfect systems now in use.

R. M. Wall & Co., have purchased the drug store of M. Jameson, at Carlisle. Dick is well known here, and we wish him much good luck.

There is to be a grand ball given at the Blue Lick Springs on the 4th of this month.

Walker & Marshall, late members of the 4th Kentucky, C. S. A., purchased the Poindexter distillery for the sum of $15,500. Tandy Wigglesworth the mill site for $2,000. Mr. Joseph Martin the land for $40 per acre. Indifferent corn brought $19 per acre in the field.

W. A. Whitaker, Justice of the Peace of the 2nd district, re-signed his position just before the November election, and the people of the Buena Vista district having declared themselves in favor of Geo. W. Withers, as his successor. Judge Curry has appointed him and sent the papers to the Governor for his approval.

At the sale of J. S. Trimble, deceased, E. McDaniel, auctioneer, on the 24th ult., milk cows sold for from $50 to $75; spring calves at $40.60 per head; older cattle about 6 cents per pound; common sheep $7 per head; horses from $50 to $100, hay sold for from $9 to $12 per stack.

Rev. H. E. Spillman of the Baptist church at Dayton, Campbell county, Ky., will commence a series of meetings in the Presbyterian church in this city, on Thursday next, the 3d inst., at 7 o'clock P. M. All are most cordially invited to attend.

Inasmuch as our city is infested by an innumerable number of pestiferous and destructive rats, it has been suggested to us by quite a number of our citizens, that now would be a good time to destroy the hated vermin.

We endorse the suggestion, and would recommend that a ratification meeting be held sometime during this month, and that each citizen procure some poison suitable for the purpose, and on a given date bait every house in town.

Col. J. T. Hegg is associated with Mr. Juett, and will be pleased to see his friends and the public generally.

Last week Mr. Jno. T. Webb, of McCamey county, Ill., was in Cynthiana on a visit to his brother, our worthy jailor, L. N. Webb. We understand that Mr. J. W. has just been married the second time, and was here on a bridal trip. It has been twenty-one years since he was here.

On last Monday a very large drove of fine turkeys passed down Pleasant street to the new slaughter pen, just below McCabe's hat shop. C. B. Gillman authorizes us to say that he will pay the highest market price for good turkeys delivered to him. Those having turkeys for sale would do well to give him a call.

Last Saturday a German laborer attempted to cross Licking River at Lair's Station, in a boat, and being unable to manage it, was swept over the dam at that place, and would have been drowned had he not received assistance from his friends. The dam is about ten feet high.

The following marriage license has been issued by our county clerk, since September 29, 1868. We understand that the trade in the matrimonial line is quite brisk, and that high prices and pretty girls have taken a fresh hold upon consumers, with a supply equal to the demand:

Jas. Hutchison to S. F. Dabney; J. Eagle to M. Benfield; J. S. Whitaker to M. S. Barnett; A. T. Rankin to E. Cummings; J. W. Stephens to H. A. Lockridge; N. D. Patton to M. A. Dudley; J. E. Maston to R. A. Scott; J. P. Zonne to E. Setters; J. K. Fowler to E. Jolly; Wm. Coleman to M. Highland.

Our readers will find in another column, the advertisement of G. R. Sharpe, Esq., wherein he offers for sale his mill property in this city. It is situated in the northern portion of Cynthiana, and we consider it a good opening for some gentleman who desires to make money. There are three run of stone, a good steam engine, a dwelling house, a store house, and a factory house. The place has two never failing wells and a large cistern upon it. Mr. S. is about to embark in a large business elsewhere, and cannot attend to all. He will sell all or part, to suit the public generally.

Let us suggest to the officers of the railroad at Covington that they should build lanes to the pens where hogs are unloaded, to keep them from straying from the flock, as we hear much complaint from drovers, that there are men in that region, who do a good business spiriting away two or three hogs a day, and returning them when five dollars each is paid as a reward. It is rather too severe.

At the depot in this city a long switch is being laid on the east side of the road.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

On last Monday night, the freight train, down from this place, ran off the track, doing but little or no damage other than detaining until quite late, the passenger train for Lexington.

A large number of pigs are being shipped to Covington from this place.

Our young friend, Walter L. Hawkins, but recently a citizen of this city, and connected with Jno. W. Reneker, in the drug business, has gone to Cincinnati, and has embarked in the General Commission business. The name of the firm is Sprigmann, Hawkins & Co., and the house can be found at No. 20 Public Landing, Cincinnati. We have known Mr. Hawkins from boyhood, and take pleasure in saying, that he is a gentleman, a good citizen, and worthy of the confidence of good people, everywhere. His business qualification are excellent.

We mentioned the fact that Mr. J. B. Cook, of Chicago, had pursued the residence of J. G. Hodges, of this city. This property is situated on Miller street between Pike and Pleasant streets, and is, perhaps, without exception, the most beautiful location in this part of the State. The house is old style, and therefore not in accordance with prevailing fashion and taste, but we are informed that the site upon which it stands will be soon occupied by an elegant structure, with all the modern improvements, and that two others will also be built upon the property by its present owner.

Cynthiana, Nov. 30, 1868.

Mr. Editor:—In changing my home in Cynthiana for another on the distant Pacific slope, I feel that I ought to say a word to those here who have so kindly and generously taken me by the hand and made my stay among them so pleasant. Without a single exception, I have been treated by those with whom I have been thrown, with more marked respect, than as a stranger, I could reasonably have expected. Nothing could induce me to change so fine a start in a new home, except that of being with those who are near and dear to me by nature—but as the opportunity has been presented for me to emigrate to California, with my entire family, I have reluctantly given up my pleasant home here to accompany my partner in my profession and his family, I deeply feel and publicly express my most lasting gratitude.

Respectfully,

Jas. F. PRESSLEY.

THE CELEBRATED
GROVER & BAKER
FAMILY SEWING MACHINE!!!
ELASTIC STITCH.

Mrs. MARY E. HOFFMAN,
Permanent Agent; Cynthiana, Ky.

This machine is conceded to be the best machine now in use, and is warranted to give entire satisfaction. Persons desiring to purchase a machine would do well to give me a call. I can be found on the second floor of the STONE FRONT, where I will be pleased in showing the machine, and where I will be happy to see my friends and the public generally.

Tue 26-11

G. R. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to be done as the mill can do.

Nov 26-11

C. W. SHARPE.

A No. 1 Engine.

Large wood room $8.00 feet long, dry house, store-room 65 by 35 feet, and large cistern. Everything is in perfect running order. The lot is 247 feet deep.

There is much grinding to

D. A. GIVENS,

No. 26 Main St.,

WOULD CALL THE ATTENTION OF the Trade to his unusually large and attractive stock of

FOREIGN

—AND—

DOMESTIC
Merchandise,

Complete in assortment, in all Departments which he offers at the

Lowest Market RATES,

Upon the most Reasonable Terms.

SHOP MADE

Shoes and Boots,

For Ladies', Misses', Children and Gents', to which he calls Special attention.

HATS CAPS.

Cassimeres,

GRAY'S JAMES.

COTTON YARNS,

Furnishing Goods, &c.

D. A. GIVENS.

Sep 25-11

New Tin Shop.

John Banks.

To the Citizens of Cynthiana and Vicinity.

I have now opened a tin shop on PIKE STREET for the manufacture of TIN, COPPER, and SHEET IRON WORK.

TIN & IRON ROOFING.

Guttering & Spouting.

Every description of Stoves for sale

All of which I will pledge to do in the most workmanlike manner, and on reasonable terms as any house in the city. I will employ none but the best mechanics, and work none but the best material. In soliciting the patronage of the public, I feel competent to give general satisfaction.

Give me a call.

Oct 26-11

J. T. HINTON,
Undertaker,

Main Street, Paris, Kentucky.
KEEPS constantly on hand a large assortment of Metal Bier Gaskets and Coats. Also keeps ready made Wooden Coffins of all sizes.

I have just purchased

A Fine New Hearse,

I am prepared to attend funerals on the shortest notice, and in the best style. I will attend both branches of my business myself. Workrooms opposite to the Paris Hotel.

JOHN T. HINTON.

John T. Hinton,

WOULD respectfully inform the public that he has received

A New Stock of

CARPETS,
FURNITURE,
WALL PAPER,
MATTHESES,
WINDOW SHADES,
OIL CLOTHS,
PICTURE FRAMES.

And every article in his line of trade, which he invites purchasers to call and examine, as he is determined to sell as cheap as the cheapest.

Goods sold at Cincinnati Prices

Aug 14-11

HILL & SMITH,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND
LIQUOR DEALERS.

No. 12 & 14 Pike street, Covington, Ky.

Storage and Commission.

mech23-6

HEGGE & BRENNER,

WEAPONS & GUNS.

CAFE AGUS, BARBERSHOP,

BUDGET, A FINE HOTEL,

No. 519 Madison street, Between

5th and 6th, Covington, Ky.

The interior is a modern hotel,

& well arranged, moderate charges, reasonable rooms.

II. DELAVAL,

M. J. TAYLOR,

Dealers in Books, Mole Clothing, and G.

Footwear Goods.

South End, Covington, Ky.

Aug 14-11

C. A. MANN,

STOOGES, COOK, W. M. SNOOK,

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER

Douglas B. Clark, Merchant.

Constantly on hand a choice and moderate price of fine Jewelry.

We never overcharge, and make a good profit.

Aug 14-11

NEW DRY GOODS STORE

A. DEGUTINGER,

Dealer in Spacious Fancy Dry Goods, He-

siery, Embroideries and Fancy Goods,

2nd Street, Covington, Ky.

Nov 22-66-11

JAS. L. HENDERSON,

DRUGGIST,

HENDERSON & LONG,

Builders and manufacturers of Sash

Blinds, Flooring, Weather-Boarding, and Shingles also turners of all kinds of brackets, cornices, mouldings and inside fitshing.

Stile street, bet. Madison and Railroad,

COVINGTON KY

Aug 22-11

STOVES! STOVES! STOVES!

C. BEAM,

Manufacturer and Dealer in

STOVES, TIN WARE,

KITCHEN HARDWARE &c.

Fashion Wood Stove, Patented 1868

Nos. 336 and 337 Scott street, bet. 4th street and Lower Market space, Covington, Ky.

Aug 22-66-11

H. M. SWOPE,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

—AND—

Manufacturer of Fine Clothing,

Madison St., Covington, Ky.

Opposite 5th Street Market.

Nov 22-66-11

Lewisburg Brewery,

COVINGTON, KY.

CHAS. LANG. FRANK KNOLL

C. LANG & CO.

Manufacturers of

ALE, BEER,

AND LAGER BEER.

Sep 3-11

COVINGTON HAT STORE!!!

No. 617, corner Madison & Pike,

COVINGTON, KY.

J. FLETCHER,

NOTICE is given to all my old city and country customers, that I have but recently recalculated to ek with all the late fall and winter styles of

HATS AND CAPS, &c.

All of which I will

SELL a Little cheaper

Than Anybody else.

Give me a call, and prove the truth of what I say for yourselves.

Oct 2-11

FURS!

—ALSO—

A NICE LOT OF LADIES' FURS!!!

Which I will sell very low.

Remember No. 617 corner Madison and Pike.

Nov 19-66-11

J. T. HINTON,

Undertaker,

Main Street, Paris, Kentucky.

KEEPS constantly on hand a large assortment of Metal Bier Gaskets and Coats. Also keeps ready made Wooden

Coffins of all sizes.

I have just purchased

A Fine New Hearse,

I am prepared to attend funerals on the shortest notice, and in the best style.

I will attend both branches of my business. Workrooms opposite to the Paris Hotel.

Aug 14-11

John T. Hinton,

WOULD respectfully inform the public that he has received

A New Stock of

CARPETS,

FURNITURE,

WALL PAPER,

MATTHESES,

WINDOW SHADES,

OIL CLOTHS,

PICTURE FRAMES.

Aug 14-11

And every article in his line of trade, which he invites purchasers to call and examine, as he is determined to sell as cheap as the cheapest.

Goods sold at Cincinnati Prices

Aug 14-11

John T. KELLEY,

Photograph,

Porcelain and Melainotype

SKY-LIGHT GALERY

609 & 611 Madison St.

Between Sixth and Pike,

Covington, Ky.

Nov 19-66-11

John T. KELLEY,

Pictures taken in every Style.

Photographs colored to order in oil or water colors.

Frames and Albums in Variety.

All Pictures copied ornately.

Open every day, Sunday excepted.

Prices as Low as any in the city.

Nov 19-66-11

J. B. KELLEY,

Importers & Manufacturers.

Nov 19-66-11

READY MADE CLOTHING.

HOUSE.

J. H. Shawhan.

Corner Pike & Walnut Streets,

CYNTHIANA, KY.

MY Goods are all new and just brought expressly to supply the demand of